cumulus nimbus

cumulus nimbus

Presented by FOG Theatre, the City of Port Phillip and DHS- Southern Region.

A series of short works that reflect the weather and mutability in all of us.

cumulus nimbus incorporates dance, physical humour and original music scores.

cumulus nimbus is a glimpse into who and what FOG Theatre is; a community of improvisors, eclectic performers and passionate people. cumulus nimbus has emerged from group devised work.

FOG Theatre is a company inclusive of performers who identify with having a disability; have a 20 year history of creating and producing high quality experiences and shows for the public; are leaders and peers in the disability arts sector. cumulus nimbus follows on from the success of previous work "Hang on a Minute" and "Forest of Gongs."

David Wells (Urban Dream Capsule, Born in a Taxi Theatre Company, The Megaphone Project in Washington DC) is FOG Theatre's Artistic Director. David's reputation as a high calibre improviser and dynamic performer has taken him all around the world, presenting work at local, national and international festivals and events.

Tim Humphrey and Madeleine Flynn (The Megaphone Project in Washington DC, Dwelling Structure-ChamberMade Opera, Music for Imagined Dances- Dance Massive Melbourne) Award-winning Australian artists working across performative art-forms. Their curiosity about sound and music in space and in culture inspires their creative partnerships nationally and internationally in dance, theatre, installation, film, public art, technology and science. Tim and Madeleine have composed and will perform original music scores for cumulus nimbus.

Nilgun Guven (The City of Port Phillip, Artplay, Neami, Rawcus, SPARC Theatre, Arts Access) is FOG Theatre's Producer and Project Manager; and Community Cultural Development Project Management and Arts Worker/Performer/Director/Theatre Maker. Nilgun actively promotes arts participation opportunities for people and communities who experience barriers to participation; promotes ground breaking work in collaboration with new and established art makers, locally and internationally.

"The consummate expressiveness of the performers. A tremendous range and depth to the physical gestures." - Martin Ball, The Age
