Life Is Something

Nice Productions is proud to present its inaugural production: "Life Is Something: A contemporary study of Australian society in a context of modern suburbia" by Bradley William George Klendo directed by Vlady T

The play will be performed as part of the 2011 Melbourne Fringe Festival at the Studio Theatre, Gasworks Arts Park.

Life Is Something is a non-naturalist play that explores the political, social and relationship issues of the day.

Nice Productions is a new theatre group, based in Melbourne, Australia. Our focus is to bring exciting original material to the stage and spice things up on the Melbourne cultural scene. We do not believe in following conventions and do not shy away from controversy, strong themes or offensive language.

Nice Productions will begin its journey by presenting a new work "Life Is Something: A contemporary study of Australian society in the context of modern suburbia" written by Bradley William George Klendo directed by Vlady T on 6, 7 and 8 October 8 PM.

Vlady T's previous directing credits include theatre productions My Prescription For Enduring The End Of The World, Away and Blackrock. He was also one of the Directors at the Virgin Flights Festival, Assistant Director on Cosi and Killing Jeremy and directed several short films. Vlady is also an experienced actor, appearing in the upcoming feature films 25 and The Dream Children, as well as various plays and TV series.

Life Is Something is written in a style of Theatre of Absurd, yet deals with real life problems of relationships, politics and society. It is centred on the characters of Mark and Cathy who love each other, yet feel constrained by the boundaries of their relationship and are very unsatisfied. Mark becomes friends with an adventurous gym buddy Liam and discovers many things about the world and himself. Then there is the nymphomaniac psychiatrist Lilly and a crazed upholder of values Max. While the play raises serious issues and intends to make the audience think, it is also very comedic, as well as confronting. We are definitely hoping to push some boundaries with it.
