One Night In Heaven Five nights only!

"One Night In Heaven"

created and performed by Marion Slatter and Catherine Hall

"One Night In Heaven" is a narrative sketch comedy that focuses on the friendship of two real-life best friends, and performers Marion Slatter and Catherine Hall.

Join us as we take you on a journey of friendship, cake, truth, cake, weird sexual feelings, car chases and fight sequences, cake and cake.*

*Your experience may differ.

"One Night In Heaven" is to be performed at The Glasshouse Hotel, for five nights only.

This will be Marion and Catherine's first show together, and they're pretty nervous about the whole thing. But don't worry, they've both made it as Victorian finalists for the 2009 and 2010 Raw Comedy competition - so they're both pretty funny.

Catherine is 20 and Marion is 21, but they've both been performing stand up and sketch comedy for more than three years.

The show itself is a narrative comedy, with elements of sketch - that follows the life and friendship of our two protagonists - as they find themselves trapped together in a storyline about being trapped together in a storyline about being trapped together in a storyline about being...

The show will also feature:

- Ginger jokes
- cake
- sketches about cats
- a lesbian kiss*

* these may not actually feature in the show.
