Roarhouse Melbourne is a not-for-profit community arts group founded by arts worker Marjetka McMahon in 2006 to provide performance, volunteering and workshop opportunities for the entire community including those with mental health issues or other disadvantages. The group has grown steadily over the last five years and has evolved to include a radio program giving a voice to artists from the margins to the mainstream thanks to the support of community radio station North West FM.

Roarhouse Melbourne presents The Unity Project - a hip-hop workshop and show featuring original member of MetaBass'n'Breath, Elf Tranzporter. Elf is an ambassador of youth projects, and uses his passion for music, lyrics and politics to reach community groups in need of an uplifting message. For this show, he will unite with 10 emerging hip-hop artists to create a song in a day which will be performed the following day at The Noise Bar. The result? Well, you'll have to be there to see it! Showcases of individual artists start at 3pm on Sunday 2nd October and will be followed by the collaborative song as well as a solo set by Elf Tranzporter himself. Entry is $5. Don't miss it!
