The Extraordinary General Meeting A journey through (office) space and time.

Alan's got a deadline. He's also got a nemesis and a problem with an eagle named Gabrielle. With an impossible task to complete and colleagues who couldn't care less, find out what happens in "The Extraordinary General Meeting", performing at The Tuxedo Cat. Created by a team of local comedians, including the winner of the 2011 MICF's Golden Gibbo Highly Commended award, this new show is an absurd romp through cubicles and cake.

'The Extraordinary General Meeting' is both an eerily familiar and wildly absurd take on the perils and pitfalls of starting a new job. Performed by a small group of young, talented performers on a cramped stage, the show is frantic, sharp and very very funny.

Written by a team of law revue alumni and local stand ups, including Andy Matthews ('Wing Attack' - MICF 2011), Michael Kalenderian (Winner Best Writer - Short & Sweet Melbourne 2009, Director of Golden Gibbo Highly Commended 'Dr. Professor Neal Portenza' - MICF 2011), Eden Porter ('The Pavilion' - Chapel Off Chapel 2011), Joshua Porter and Sarah Brewin.

'The Extraordinary General Meeting' is a farcical journey through (office) space and time, which will have you laughing in your mouth and sitting on your seat.

"...a fascinating experiment of sketch from a talented partnership that is sure to flourish" - Chortle on 'Wing Attack' (MICF 2011)

"...employed plenty of farce in its structure and kept the laughs rolling throughout" - The Groggy Squirrel on '21 - 'cause you'll only turn it once' (Melbourne Fringe 2009)
