Who, Me.

Presented by Vicious Fish and MILKE

Doctor Who is about to face his greatest challenge: his number one fan. Rob Lloyd (The Hounds, The Mutant Way, A Study in Scarlet (A Study of...)) and Fan Number One) is putting the Doctor on trial.* A hilarious romp across the Doctor's 48 years, 11 faces and countless adventures.

Rob will be asking the BIG questions. Investigating whether Doctor Who (the television show) is guilty of inciting in him a debilitating obsession, or whether it has shaped him into a well-rounded, mentally-sound member of society.

Since 1996 Rob Lloyd has dedicated himself to amassing as much Doctor Who knowledge, well as videos, DVD, novels, audios, action figures and assorted paraphernalia as he can afford. With his replica Jon Pertwee era sonic screwdriver in hand and dressed in his 10th Doctor get up he's ready to jump head first into finding out how and why he got here!

Built up through improvisation and storytelling techniques, this one-man show is a personal and fitting tribute to a television icon. Through the course of the show we will see how one TV program can influence a person's actions, behaviour and psyche.

You don't need to be a Doctor Who fan to relate to this show, it speaks to anyone who has known obsession and its many faces.

Devised and Performed by Rob Lloyd
Devised and Directed by Scott Gooding

*The Doctor has been put on trial three times before, which is why this format was chosen. It will act as a comfortable introduction for the unfamiliar, but also tickle the nostalgic bones of the fans.
