Accommodation

There are plenty of great, affordable housing options in Melbourne if you know where to look.

Share Houses

Also known as flats, spare rooms, apartments, digs... These are abundant in Melbourne, but the market is pretty competitive. It's worth noting that a lot of share houses come unfurnished, so it may be best to focus on sublets. Average costs for a room per week are $150-$250, but short-term rental can be more expensive. To score yourself a room in a flat you've got to be able to sell yourself really well when you message the advertiser. Here are some tips:

- ❖ Make it clear you've read the advertiser's listing and are not just copying and pasting the same message to multiple people.
- ❖ Try use your own voice in your message, rather than being super formal – this will get across your personality and make you stand out from the rest.

Eating and Drinking

You can throw a stone from anywhere in Melbourne and you'll hit good coffee and tasty treats. To help you out, we've put together a handy list of cheap eats for when you're on that tight Fringe budget.

Chinatown (CBD)

Chinatown is brimming with restaurants serving cheap dumplings galore. Average price is 15 dumplings for $7.50 – that's 50 cents a dumpling! Tip: the shabbier the exterior the tastier the dumplings.

Queen Vic Market (CBD)

Fresh produce, meats and cheese just north of the CBD and a mere 10-15 minutes walk from Fringe Hub.

Welcome to Thornbury (Thornbury, obviously)

A happening outdoor food truck complex in the northern 'burbs.

Bimbo Deluxe (Fitzroy)

A pub in Fitzroy with $4 pizzas and a great rooftop setting.

The Green Refectory (Brunswick)

Massive brunches and cheap cabinet food. Cash only.

Lentil as Anything (Abbotsford/St Kilda/Thornbury)

Pay what you can afford at this vegan and vegetarian restaurant. Most of the people you see working here are volunteers and they run solely on a contribution box system with no set prices.

Mr Scruffs (Collingwood)

$5 Nachos on Wednesday nights. Enough said.

Auction Rooms (North Melbourne)

Top notch coffee, just around the corner from the Fringe Hub!

Festival Club (North Melbourne)

The best place to drink during the Fringe is our very own Fringe Club, located in North Melbourne Town Hall! With free special events every night and cheap drinks for artists it's a great place to hang out and meet other artists (who can give you even more tips for making the most of Melbourne!)

Getting Around

Melbourne is a big city and getting around can seem a bit daunting. Never fear – the public transport system has you covered!

Myki Card

To access any Melbourne public transport you need to have a Myki card. You can buy a Myki ($6 full price or $3 concession) at multiple places around the city – the 7-Eleven is a good place to start. You can top up your Myki at any place you can purchase one, or at self-serve machines located at some tram stops and train stations. You need to touch on and off when jumping on a tram/train/bus to validate your fare, and the most you'll be charged in a day is $8.60.

Tram

Check out the Yarra Trams website for information on tram routes. It's a wee 10-15 minute tram ride on the Number 57 from the CBD to the Fringe Hub (North Melbourne).

The centre of the city is a Free Tram Zone, where you don't need to touch on or off.

Navigating

Google Maps is a pretty good way to find the best routes to get from A to B. You can also download the PTV app for real time updates on transport.

Accessible Public Transport

The PTV website has information on Accessible Public Transport, but here are a few key things to note:

- ❖ Not all trams or tram stops are wheelchair accessible: this page has details
- ❖ All metropolitan trains are wheelchair accessible
- ❖ Assistance animals are welcome on public transport
- ❖ For more information, you can call 1800 800 007 or 03 9619 2727 for the National Relay Service

Cycling

Melbourne has fantastic cycle paths and is mostly flat. Riding without a helmet in Australia is a big no-no (as in, it's illegal). There are a couple of bike share options here and here.

Flexicar

If you're going to need to drive a fair bit during your stay, it's worth checking out Flexicar. Basically, you pay a $49 joining fee and then can use a car at a low hourly or daily rate as long as you need. You can hire regular-sized cars, people-movers or vans for moving your set/props.

Mobile Phones

If you're not from Australia, it's pretty easy to get a sim for your mobile phone. The main providers, Optus, Vodafone and Telstra, all have stores in the Melbourne Airport. You can walk into any of these stores and buy a sim card on the spot and get set up with a prepaid plan.

Fringe Hub

Melbourne Fringe programmes and manages a series of venues in North Melbourne. Housing 10 rooms of different sizes, the Hub is home to around 70 acts. The Hub houses the Festival Club, which has free nightly events, a bar and, of course, lots of dancing. It's a great place to meet other artists and Melbourne Fringe staff during the festival.

There are a few other established venues around the North Melbourne area that aren't part of the Fringe Hub, such as Errol's & Co, Club Voltaire and Courthouse Hotel.

Melbourne Fringe Office

The Melbourne Fringe team is always here to answer your questions. You can contact the Participants Services team on artists@melbournefringe.com.au or +61 (0)3 9660 9600 with any queries.

OTHER HANDY TIPS AND BITS

- ❖ If you're not Australian, your driver's licence is not enough to buy alcohol or enter licenced premises. You'll need to bring along your passport in order to purchase alcohol.
- ❖ Australian customs are super strict on food products, so if you're thinking of bringing in a bag of apples to keep the doctor away – make sure you declare them and be prepared to have them taken off you.
